Truman Assailed for Slap at Marines

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—President Truman today drew a storm of bitter protest from Marine veterans groups and senators by charging that the Marine corps has a "propaganda machine that is almost equal to Stalin's."

The Marine Corps League called the statement an "insult" and demanded a public apology.

The Marine Corps Reserve Officers Association said it felt the statement must have been a "monumental misunderstanding" on the part of Mr. Truman.

Senators hopped on Mr. Truman, too.

Typical comments:

Senator Thye (R-Minn)—"Shocking!"

Senator Aiken (R-Vt)—"Indiscreet, incorrect and uncalled for."

The argument was touched off by a couple of innocent looking little letters in small type, tucked away in the back of the "Congressional Record."

ONE WAS FROM Rep. McDougal (R-Calif.). He wrote asking the President to name a Marine to the joint chiefs of staff, along with the Army, Navy and Air Corps.

Mr. Truman's reply, dated Aug. 29:

"My dear Congressman McDougal: I read with a lot of interest your letter in regard to the Marine corps. For your information the Marine corps is the Navy's police force and as long as I am President that is what it will remain. They have a propaganda machine that is almost equal to Stalin's."

"Nobody desires to belittle the efforts of the Marine corps but when the Marine corps goes into the Army it works with and for the Army and that is the way it should be."

"I am more than happy to have your expression of interest in this naval military organization. The chief of naval operations is the chief of staff of the Navy of which the Marines are a part."

"Sincerely yours,

Harry S. Truman."

BY COINCIDENCE, the Marine Corps league, which has 40,000 members, was gathering here for its annual convention starting tomorrow.

The league had invited Mr. Truman to attend a banquet. He first had accepted, but later had turned it down because of the press of military affairs.

Clay Nixon, Seattle lawyer and commandant of the league, told reporters:

"We feel he (Mr. Truman) should come to the American people and to the Marines, and through our organization he should make an apology."

November Draft Call Boosted 40 Percent; '50 Increase Looms

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—The Army today called for 70,000 draftees in November, a 40 percent increase in a month.

The announcement, putting into cold figures the fast expansion of American defense, may mean a raise in the authorized 1950 draft totals. Here is why:

Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey has stated he is authorized to draft 185,000 in the last four months of this year. September and October calls totaled 100,000 for the Army. The increased call for November will leave a margin of only 15,000 for the December draft, but the President can increase the authorization. Military officials believe that such a year end increase is likely.

The planned Army buildup to meet Korean war needs, and the overall expansion program now before Congress calls for an Army strength by next June of 834,000. This is 242,000 more men and women than were on the Army rolls at the outbreak in Korea. It is 204,000 higher than the budgeted strength for the Army at the end of June.

THE ARMY is considering congressional proposals that the upper age limit for the draft be lifted to 35. Local draft boards are now selecting single men 19 through 25, who are not World War II veterans. The chairman of the House armed services committee, Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), has also suggested the possibility early next year of revising the law to permit drafting some veterans of the last war.

The Army is meeting its immediate manpower requirements by a gradual call up of reserves and the National Guard.

Four Guard divisions and two Guard regimental combat teams go into camp this month. The divisions are the 28th from Pennsylvania, the 40th from California, the 43d from Connecticut, Rhode Island and Vermont, and the 45th from Oklahoma.

The combat teams are the 196th from South Dakota and the 278th of Tennessee.

Bad News for the Korean Reds

American jet planes have hit the North Korean Reds with everything, as evidenced by this huge pile of empty 30-caliber cans representing two days' shooting by a pair of jet fighters in Korea. Master Sergeant Norman R. Dupont, of Burbank, Calif., shown beside stack of tins, says that in 8 years of loading Air Force guns, he's never seen anything equal the fire power the United States jets have dropped on the Reds.

Psychologists' New Wrinkle Would Rule Out Stage Flops

STATE COLLEGE, Sept. 5 (AP)—An Iowa psychologist said today he believes he has developed a scientific method for determining whether a proposed new stage play would be a hit or a flop.

And that possibility goes also for movies and radio programs before they are generally produced, said Dr. Norman C. Meier of the University of Iowa in a report to the annual meeting of the American Psychological Association. The meeting is being held on the campus of the Pennsylvania State college.

Meier described results of two years' tests with a machine he has developed for studying audience reaction to "every moment" of a play or script being tried on a test audience.

"From the experiments and tests run," he declared, "it is evident that plays may now be tested before they are produced on an expensive scale."

Moreover, weak spots may be detected and corrected, dramatic episodes be measured for their duration and effectiveness, and the director given a blueprint in advance as to what his job is in perfecting the production.

Russian Sympathy Charged to Chapman

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—Senator Schoeppel (R-Kan.) tonight accused Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman of a "close personal alliance" with "the Russian Soviet cause."

Schoeppel told the Senate this is shown "conclusively" by a memorandum "covering a check of the public records, files and publications of the committee on un-American activities."

The Kansas senator demanded an investigation of the cabinet officer's loyalty, declaring he had associated with Communist front groups.

Schoeppel, in a Senate speech, demanded that the inquiry embrace the entire Interior department, particularly Reclamation Commissioner Michael Straus, and deal also with the background of certain persons active in the campaign for Alaskan statehood.

Farouk Bans Writer In Tiff Over New American Amour

By GODFREY ANDERSON

BIARRITZ, France, Sept. 5 (AP)—King Farouk of Egypt, apparently more determined than ever to guard the identity of his mysterious American girl friend, had an Associated Press reporter removed from his hotel today.

I was asked by the manager of the Mammoth Hotel du Palais, where the hefty monarch is staying, to leave at once and not return. The manager threatened that the police would put the (AP) writer out if he did not go.

Asked for an explanation, manager Pierre Alexandre Hammett said, "I understand from the suite (the King's party) it concerns something between you and King Farouk personally and that he finds your presence objectionable."

"If he sees you here there will be a row and I don't want scenes in my hotel."

The AP writer apparently had annoyed the King by a story about the arrival of his American friend at La Baule and by asking her name which she refused to give.

THE LOCAL newspaper, Journal de Biarritz, reported that newspaper guests of the hotel were not the only ones to fall under the King's displeasure. It reported without confirmation that police at La Baule, telephoned to the Hotel du Palais warning that the King would not visit the hotel unless "two American families and the journalist Elsa Maxwell" left before his arrival.

Relief Supplies Sent To Storm-Rocked Town

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Sept. 5 (AP)—A small hurricane "punch" aimlessly over the low Florida Gulf coast plain 40 miles southwest of here late today, while emergency supplies were rushed through the storm area to the stricken village of Cedar Key.

A convoy of 10 ambulances and trucks loaded with food, milk and water set out from Gainesville in an effort to reach Cedar Key, a fishing village of 988 population.

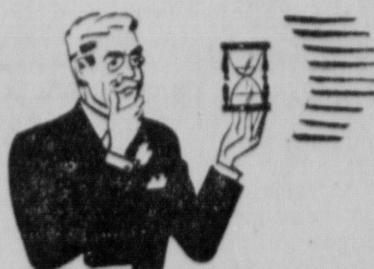

"STILL MORE importantly, scripts of new plays can be appraised in advance so that weak ones can be rejected and good ones spotted by the audience judgment rather than the subjective opinion of the director or producer."

The testing technique involves use of a number of small "audience-response" recorders which can be plugged into an electric circuit handy to where members of the test audience are seated. About ten subjects — "typical audience persons"—are used for each test run.

The individual machines are equipped with sliding pointers arranged on a graduated scale so that the subject can indicate his interest at every moment of the play's development. The printed scale runs from "quite uninteresting" to "very interesting."

When the play is over, the record of each subject appears as a finely inscribed line on a wax-impregnated tape. Then, the records are synchronized with the script by the experimenter so that the reaction "to any line or episode can now be examined."

HUGE GE PLANT IS SHUTTERED IN PICKET LINE ROW

CIO Stoppages Spread To Six More Factories; 26,300 Workers Idled

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (AP)—Bone-cracking picket line clashes caused the shutdown of one big General Electric co. plant today, while a CIO strike spread to six additional GE factories.

Workers also staged a brief stoppage at the company's atomic power laboratory at Schenectady, N. Y., but the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers ordered them back to work.

The new strikes, bringing to about 26,300 the number of GE workers now idle at 12 plants, came despite a government assertion that such stoppages would hamper war work and a plea that the workers remain on the job.

After the appeal, the IUE called off its threatened nationwide strike today against GE, and agreed to resume talks with the company before Federal mediators in Washington tomorrow.

Later, the company requested and got a 24-hour delay because of a prior date with groups represented by another union. Mediators agreed to defer the talks to Thursday.

HOWEVER, NEARLY half of the union's 58,000 GE members now are on strike in the contract dispute, which hinges on pension and pay demands.

The violence erupted at the GE's huge electronics plant at Syracuse, N. Y., where pickets hurled themselves in front of automobiles trying to cross their lines.

Scuffles broke out between strikers and non-strikers. Four union pickets, including the local IUE president, were struck by automobiles.

At least three pickets were taken to a hospital, two of them reportedly with broken legs suffered when cars rolled over them.

Two deputy sheriffs also were knocked down by cars.

There were no arrests.

In ordering the plant closed, Dr. W. R. G. Baker, a GE vice president, said "We cannot subject our workers to personal injury and property damage from fist and foot of irresponsible hoodlums."

He charged that young women workers had been "threatened and subjected to profane, abusive language, and also manhandled." The violence, he said, was of "such magnitude" that police couldn't stop it.

There was no immediate comment from the union.

Demos Favor Rep. Lynch

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 5 (AP)—Rep. Walter A. Lynch appeared headed tonight toward the Democratic nomination for governor of New York, to run against Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

The veteran congressman from the Bronx picked up important support in an eleventh-hour switch by James A. Roe, Democratic leader of pivotal Queens county. Roe had been behind Judge Charles W. Frossell of the State Court of Appeals for the nomination.

With Roe's about-face, the 56-year-old Lynch had the pledges of all five county leaders of New York City for the party's state convention, opening in Rochester tomorrow. The 441 delegate votes from the five metropolitan counties would give him more than the required 437, which is a majority of the total 837 convention votes.

However, upstate forces opposing Lynch threatened battle. They had a rallying point in Daniel P. O'Connell, influential leader from Albany whose 30-member county delegation came prepared to fight for nomination of Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Ewing.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—President Truman's high commissioner for Germany proposed today that the Germans be enabled to "defend their own country" against the threat of Communist arms. He would not say just how but he left the implication of limited rearmament wide open.

Commissioner John J. McCloy gave reporters that view after consulting with Mr. Truman. McCloy is here in preparation for the "Big Three" foreign ministers conference starting next Tuesday in New York.

McCloy said he also favors increasing the number of American troops in Western Germany if they can be spared, but told questioners he was being purposely "vague" on the issue of putting weapons in German hands.

"In some manner and in some form, the Germans should be enabled, if they want to, to defend their own country," he said.

THE RUSSIAN-organized police force in Eastern Germany, heavily armed and "trained more like an army," implies a threat to the Western occupied zones, the commissioner said.

McCloy said he talked over with the President all phases of the German occupation, including both economic recovery and rearmament.

He advised Mr. Truman that "some steps can be taken both from the point of view of internal and external security."

Asked whether this means a limited rearmament, McCloy said he preferred not to be specific in view of the other countries involved.

'Provocative' Label Placed by Malik on Soviet Plane Incident

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 5 (AP)—Russia today assailed as "provocative" a United States report that a Soviet lieutenant was part of the crew of a plane shot down off Korea after attacking a United Nations air patrol.

The report was laid before the Security Council by Chief J. S. DeLoach Warren R. Austin, who said he had no information beyond the fact that the plane bore the Soviet Red Star and that a destroyer had picked up the body of a Soviet officer.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob A. Malik listened impassively as Austin read the report. He said nothing at first, but later in the session after a procedural wrangle he made his brief reference to the plane incident.

Malik did not deny the report, but called it a "provocative statement made by Gen. MacArthur and the War department" to cover up the efforts of the United States to expand the Korean war by bringing in troops from other countries.

Council Committee To Discuss New Job

Council's special committee on an assistant borough manager will meet at 7 o'clock tonight in borough hall, it was announced by the chairman, Earl R. Strange.

An assistant borough manager was authorized by council in the 1950 budget, at a salary of $4000 a year, but the post never was filled.

The assistant to Dow I. Sears, council stipulated, should be an engineer and should have a knowledge of road work.

Councilmen planned to have the assistant borough manager eventually replace George F. Shaner, who has been borough engineer on a fee basis.

Shaner's fees, councilmen leaders pointed out early this year when they made up the budget, have totaled annually several times the $4000 that would be paid an assistant borough manager.

William A. Gauger Dies; Was Ex-Driver Of Horse-Drawn Fire Engine for Hookies

William A. Gauger, 68, of 444 Beech street, one-time driver for the Empire Hook and Ladder company when the three horses abreast pulled the steaming pumper, died yesterday morning at 3:10 o'clock in Pottstown hospital.

In failing health for some time, he had been a patient in the hospital since Sunday. Pneumonia caused his death, it was believed.

Mr. Gauger was a lifelong member of the Hookies. For several years before the company motorized, he held the reins of the three charging horses which took the company pumper to fires.

He also drove the Hookies' horse-drawn sprinkler truck which helped keep down the dust on the dirt road that was High street, then.

In 1918, when the company replaced horses with motor vehicles, Mr. Gauger drove the company hook and ladder truck for several years. He drove for the company for about 10 years, members believed.

THE SON OF the late Daniel and Emma Gauger, he spent most of his life in the Pottstown area. For many years he had been employed by the Kinsey Distilling corporation, Linfield. He had lived at his last address for the past 20 years. His wife died in 1940. Surviving are three daughters, Wilma, wife of John S. Weikel, of 293 North Manatawny street; Pearl, wife of John M. Norris, Vine street, Stowe; and Edna, wife of John Kenyon, Earleville; a sister, Bessie, wife of John Naylor, South Pottstown; a brother, Jay, of Parkerford; 18 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street. Interment will be in Brownhead's Reformed cemetery.

The Rev. Michael R. Schmidt, pastor of St. Paul's Reformed Church, Walnut and Penn streets, will officiate.

Obituaries

WILLIAM H. WISMER, 75, husband of Isabelle (Hellyer) Wismer, of POTTSTOWN RD 2, died yesterday morning at 2:05 o'clock at the Maple farm Convalescent home, Akron, Lancaster county.

He had lived there the past month. For five months before that he had been a patient at Pottstown hospital.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by daughter, S. Helen, wife of William S. Hellyer, Pottstown RD 2, with whom he lived; a sister, Nora, wife of Hiram Winkler, of Doylestown, and a brother, George Wismer, of Willow Grove.

Funeral services will be held at the convenience of the family from a funeral home at 359 King street. The Rev. Theodore L. Fischer, pastor of Transfiguration Lutheran church, will officiate. Interment will be in Whitmarsh Memorial park.

Kiwanis Told U. S. Must Keep Strong To Fight Major War

Regardless of where Russia might attempt to start a war, the major factor in United States strategy is that the nation at all times must not be exhausted so as to be unable to fight a major war with Russia itself.

So said Dr. Elmer S. Prieberg, a Pottstown optometrist and reserve major in the U. S. Air Force, speaking before the Pottstown Kiwanis club last night on the subject "The Role of Air Power Today."

Seventy members were present for the weekly dinner meeting held in the Elks' club.

Dr. Prieberg, who served four and a half years with the Army Air Forces in the U. S. and Europe during World War II, emphasized that the basic strategy of the Joint Chiefs of Staff has remained unchanged despite the Korean war.

He maintained that all services of the armed forces must be strengthened as quickly as possible to anticipate any emergency. The speaker observed that among the problems yet to be solved is that of coping with Russia's long-range Schnorkel submarine, a function within the province of the Navy.

Dr. Prieberg pointed out that a period of eight years is required to develop a war plane from the planning to the operational stage.

THE KIWANIANS, it was announced, will resume their waste paper collection drives that were held in World War II, and decided also to hold a white elephant auction.

In conjunction with the Pottstown Recreation commission, the club will hold Halloween parties at the Senior and Junior High schools and at Bethany chapel.

Club President Carson Potter was in charge of the session.

Police Radio Okayed In Lower Frederick

The installation of a new police radio in the car of Chief Theodore Berry was approved by the Lower Frederick township board of supervisors last night.

The board voted to share the costs of installation with the borough of Schwenkville.

Berry, who is chief of police in Schwenkville, also is the township police officer. He reported at the meeting last night he had arrested several speeders and over-load violators on township roads during the month.

It was announced that Roadmaster Frank Knerr would begin hauling ballast to the Smith-Slaughter road today. The stone for the construction of the road will be provided by the Kibbleshouse quarry, while W. R. Croasdale, Pottstown contractor, will furnish the oil.

The board members, all of whom attended the session in the Ziegler hotel, voted to approach the State department of highways to obtain speed limit signs along the township roads.

Drivers Escape Injury In Crash at Kenilworth

Between $300 and $400 damage to two cars was caused in an accident along Route 83 in Kenilworth late Monday night.

Devon State Trooper Charles E. Weber said a 1948 sedan driven north by Jacob Flore, 34, of Phoenixville, swerved to its left to avoid a car being pushed off the road.

Flore's car collided with a 1949 coupe coming in the opposite direction, driven by Robert F. Taglieber, 23, Phoenixville. The State trooper estimated that each car had $150-$200 damage. No one was injured.

Faces Operation

Brig. Gen. Carlos Romulo (above), president of the United Nations general assembly, yesterday said he expects to undergo an operation on his throat within a few days. After an examination at Walter Reed hospital in Washington, Romulo said the doctors found he was still suffering from a throat infection which began several months ago.

Construction of Major Runway at Airport Will Commence Here Late This Week

Construction of the Pottstown Municipal airport will begin late this week, Borough Manager Dow I. Sears announced after a conference with engineers yesterday afternoon.

"Work will start Thursday or Friday, with a bulldozer at the north end of the runway," the borough manager declared.

Within a week, he said, complete equipment of the Wenger brothers' construction company, Lancaster, would be at the site, including bulldozers, "carry-alls" and large trucks.

Plans call for the completion of the major runway, 2800 feet long, running northwest-southeast, within two months, except for the seeding.

A secondary runway, 1000 feet long and crossing the larger strip almost at a right angle, will be leveled and kept in condition for short take-offs and emergency landings, Sears explained.

He conferred yesterday afternoon with John A. Wenger and Joseph

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1950

It is better to desire the things we have than to have the things we desire.
Henry Van Dyke.

First Grade Boom

WHEN the Pottstown public schools open this morning, the big rush will be to the first grade. A rise from the present enrolment is as certain as anything can be seen in the real of statistical futures.

Just a few years ago the problem was how to provide for more high school students. From now on for a long while it will be how to care for more grade school children.

This change came upon us unaware.
None of our social scientists anticipated the greatly increased birth rate that came with World War II. None can now be sure when birth rates will again decline, as they have been doing for half a century before 1940.

Pottstown faces a lower grade problem so difficult that half day sessions are in prospect in some schools until a new grade building in the North End can be completed. This is occasioned by a population trend toward that area, and because the younger element of the community is buying homes there.

And now comes a new wave of marriages—occasioned by the draft and the Korean war.
Pottstown's school board, were it foresighted, would begin at once to plan new grade schools.
For sure as rain, Pottstown's population will grow, more couples will be moving here, and more school rooms will be needed.

America will be a younger nation and Pottstown a younger city for good part of the century's second half than we anticipated.

Admirable Self-Discipline

THE GOVERNMENT generally has stalled and fumbled attempts to set up some kind of rules to prevent military mobilization from throwing our economy out of kilter. Meanwhile, key private businessmen have demonstrated a degree of self-discipline all out of line with the leftist theme that greed for easy profits is the only motive known to capitalism.

Big manufacturers of durable products—vital to the production of war supplies and consumers goods—have started turning down orders they consider "excessive." Many such orders have been returned with polite notes that "if more reasonable orders are sent,
they might be accepted."

In other instances, voluntary priority systems have been set up with the same goal in view—to prevent industrial marketing from hopelessly bogging down.

Such private measures alone are not enough, of course. But they are encouraging in the sense of public responsibility they reflect. And they demonstrate that the motives and intentions of a good section of private business at least are on an infinitely higher plane than the executive branch and majority party in Washington are willing to admit.

We've Been Begecked!

AS OUR civilization trudges onward and (?)
upward, a language expert reminds us, our Anglo-Saxon vocabulary not only expands with new terms but also loses some of the old common words. A little experimenting with his sample list of 16th century words now spoken only in Limbo makes one wonder whether we haven't lost a lot in the culling.

Just for a test, compare this paragraph . . .
That snudge Smith, whom I adeln as a fool and a bebeck, has been yulking for a pringle. He finally got into one, got yerked and now is going to ghost.

With this . . .

That miserly Smith, whom I disdain as a fool and a cheat, has been itching for a fight.
He finally got into one, got his and now is going to die.

Now doesn't that first version have a certain sonority, a meatiness, a Chaucerian echo of the Canterbury Tales completely lacking in the second? You can take a deep breath, throw out your chest and let the first roll forth, while you need only half a breath for the second, which is pure yakity-yak no matter how you say it.

We can keep our modern heating, plumbing, transportation and, perhaps, dress. But for more colorful language — back to the ancients!

No Lamp in the Window

HENRY WALLACE—who was born a Republican, grew up to be a Democratic vice president and ran for the presidency on the Progressive ticket — has firmly announced that, having parted company with the Progressives, he still won't rejoin either the Republicans or the Democrats.

He was invited?

PUNKIN CORNERS,
Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir N' Brother:

Wal, vacations now are over. So-called radio comedians are returning to the air.
This includes all those alleged funny men you missed so enjoyably!

A Tennessee woman complained to a judge her husband broke beer bottles over her head. Maybe he'd just misplaced the cap remover!

And say: You easily can spot a foreigner these days. He's the fellow who has no opinion and admits it—as to when the Phillies are going to win the National League pennant!

Havin' you air the same,

READERS SAY:

Adventists Give Proof There's No Superior Race

Example for Other Faiths

To the Editor: After reading the daily accounts of the proceedings of the biennial camp meeting of the Adventist conference Seventh Day Adventists, I come to the conclusion that I am right in what I have long believed and maintained:

There is no such thing as a superior race; only superior men.

We may disagree with the Adventists in their strict interpretation of the Scripture and many of us may feel that God will find a solution to man's difficulties short of world destruction.

But the fact remains that Adventism among the Negro people is a strong and growing faith, ministered by a group of intelligent, well educated, thinking individuals of that race.

The allegiance shown by the Adventists to their faith and to their leaders seems to indicate that—right or wrong —their devotion is an example which might profitably be followed by other Protestant sects not so firmly unified.

Toying With Public Safety

To the Editor: If this new police schedule is no better than the old one,
even with two more cops on the force, it must have been done purposely, and it seems to me that playing politics with

WASHINGTON

Britain, France Defend
Small Part in the War

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Top-level officials in the State and National Defense departments, as well as key members of Congressional committees dealing with diplomatic and military matters, would be knocked off their complacent chairs if they could hear private, British and French reaction to muttered demands that "they get in and fight alongside Uncle Sam in Korea and elsewhere." Perhaps they have heard these official and unofficial mutterings.

When a minor but curious member of the Truman Administration recently asked a British Embassy attaché about England's rearming of Russia the frank and realistic Englishman replied:

"I don't and can't defend it. But may I point out that we have just increased the length of service of conscripts from 18 to 24 months, while you don't have real conscription at all? May I also note that we have more men fighting in Burma, Malaya and on guard in other unsettled areas than you have in Korea?"

SACRIFICES: The reaction—It might be called resentment—of the French is similar. It should be noted here, however, that these representatives of London and Paris are not bitter. They see our viewpoint, but they think that we fail to appreciate their attitude and contribution.

France, for instance, has twice as many soldiers in Indo-China as we have sent to Korea as of today. Like Britain, the French also have a stern system of conscription.

In proportion to their resources and population, the men of London and Paris think that they are making as great or greater sacrifices than the United States.

BAYONETS: Premier Peirrot also grumbles because his country's military pledges have not been fully publicized here by the White House, the State department or the Pentagon.

At recent councils for formation of a European Army, he says, France has promised to raise and maintain, with some help from us, 20 divisions—
ten in France and ten in Germany.
Paris can equip and support about one-third of these units, counting on us to provide for the other two-thirds.

In short, both the British and French want to see American bayonets as well as dollars gleaming in the suns of Alsace-Lorraine and the Rhine Valley.

FORUM: Providing a national forum for General Douglas A. MacArthur to air his embarrassing, anti-Administration views on Formosa was no mere accident on the part of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Although Secretary Louis A. Johnson had hoped for an invitation to address their national convention, the VFW's preferred a message from MacArthur.

As former commander of the American Legion in the West Virginia, has never been popular with these overseas veterans. The two groups quarreled violently in the early days of the Roosevelt Administration, when it was charged that Mr. J. showed partiality to the Legionaires as Under Secretary of War.

He supported the severe cuts which F. D. R. made in veterans' pensions and allowances, while the VFW favored milder curtailments.

CRITIC: A severe Johnson critic
in Capitol Hill has been Representative
James E. Van Zandt of Altoona, Pa., former hero of VFW and still a power in its inner circle. It was Mr.
Van Zandt who precipitated the B-36 investigation that led to Congressional surveys and demands for strengthening the military establishment.

Mr. Johnson has never forgiven him for that enterprise, which was warmly commended by Carl Vinson, the Georgia Democrat who heads the House Armed Services Committee.

DOGHOUSE: In fact, the unhappy
Mr. Johnson is not too popular with the present American Legion hierarchy. He and former Commander Paul V. McNutt, who seems to have more influence with World War I doughboys than the Cabinet member, have frequently clashed as rivals for the presidential or vice-presidential nomination.

In fact, the likable and amiable Secretary of National Defense is today the loneliest man in Washington, which can be an awfully lonely doghouse for a man who, like Mr. J., craves publicity, public esteem and the presidency.

Local CAP Ordered To Renew Search

Pottstown's Civil Air Patrol has been ordered out for the second time this week to search for a plane which was reported missing Saturday night somewhere on a flight between Salisbury, Md., and Teterboro, N. J.

Fred K. Riegner, 1150 Queen street, member of the local unit, said Philadelphia CAP headquarters called him last night and requested for 1 unit fliers and observers for today.

They were asked to report at Northeast airport, Philadelphia, at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Riegner requested personnel going on the flight to be at Pottstown airport, Limerick, at 9 o'clock.

Five planes and ten local unit members joined a 200-plane search group Monday. A piece of wreckage sighted floating in Delaware bay, which was believed to be the downed plane, turned out to be jettisoned fuel tanks from a jet plane.

FORTUNE TELLER —

"You want to do something but you are afraid you won't succeed."

"You will be successful and make a lot of money."

And when Volga said she had "a mean temper when you get angry," the young woman tried to imagine someone who had a sweet temper when they were angry.

UNLIKE MADAME Z, who was strong on guesses about jobs, saying that the mythical husband worked around houses and shouldn't buy a truck, Volga tread extra cautiously here.

She asked the young woman, "Do you work?" The young woman nodded. Volga asked, "What kind of work do you do?" When the young woman told her she worked at odd jobs, Volga said:

"I see a steady job for you where you will make good pay."

Volga went out on only three limbs.

The first one, "You were in love at one time with a dark-haired fellow but you broke off with him," was true enough if her infatuation with Gregory Peck counted.

The second one, "Your first child will be a boy," was safe for the time being.

The third one, "You will receive a letter soon—it's on its way now—from someone who has left and whom you are worried about," may be true, the young woman conceded afterward, but if it is, the letter's a long time coming.

For this non-controversial look at the future, Madame Z charged $1, or $7 less than Madame C charged, or $1 more than any friend of the young woman would have charged for saying nice things about the young woman as she sat at a table with her palms upward.

North Korean Aggression Condemned by Tito Gov't

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Sept. 5 (P)—Premier-Marshall Tito's government tonight condemned North Korean aggression and said that it brings the peace of the world into danger.

Yugoslavia's position was made clear in a statement by Edvard R. Kardelj, foreign minister, to the newspaper Borba just before he left for New York to attend the United Nations General Assembly.

Budget Plans Are Aired At Supervisors Meeting

Preliminary plans for the 1951 budget were discussed at a meeting of the Washington township, Berks county, supervisors last night.

Board members discussed the possibility of including various projects in the budget for the coming year, but took no action on any of the plans.

A routine meeting of the Douglass township, Berks county, supervisors was held Monday night. It was marked only by the payment of bills and other regular monthly business.

Borough Briefs

A summons charging Leon C. Weiser, Kutztown, with passing a red light at High and Franklin streets will be issued by Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus.

Weiser was arrested at 2:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Michael Shanta.

Mary M. Short, 16 North York street, will receive a summons from Cadmus charging her with making a left hand turn from Hanover street on to High street through a red light.

She was arrested by Patrolman Stanley Borowy at 8:50 o'clock Sunday night.

A DOUGLASSVILLE man, Edward J. Kruk, will be charged with three separate traffic violations in summonses to be issued by Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus.

Kruk was apprehended by Patrolman Joseph Thees on East High street Monday. He was charged with passing a red light at Rosedale drive, another at Firestone drive and failure to carry his driving license with him.

Thees caught Kruk shortly after he had passed the second light.

lege with the degree of bachelor of science.

After teaching in the Pottstown High school for one term, he attended the national training school for scout executives at the Schiff foundation, Mendham, N. J. He was appointed district executive of the Continental district upon completion of his training.

In the Summer of 1944, Borneman was named assistant camp director at Camp Delmont. A year later he was made camp director and has held the post since that time.

This Summer, an average of more than 500 Scouts attended Camp Delmont each week. More than 3500 attended during the entire season.

Although his successful direction of the camp for the past six years qualified him for the new post, Borneman also has served as an instructor at the national council's camp director's school for the past three years. The training course is held each Spring.

department leaders an opportunity to explain the system and to tell the men their duties.

ALTHOUGH the department now has three sergeants, they will be on foot patrol, unless they replace a motor patrolman on his night off.

This means that the sergeants, lacking mobility and access to the police radio, cannot supervise their men on the beats and are, in effect, acting only as foot patrolmen.

The only change made since the schedule was posted Friday night has been to put three patrol cars on the street late at night, instead of two.

After 3 a. m., however, there is only one patrol car for the entire borough, until the day men begin work five hours later.

During those five hours the borough is protected only by a foot patrolman in the downtown business district, a street sergeant, a patrol car and the desk sergeant.

Mrs. Bowman started across the street and he ran into her. Wayock placed the time of the accident at 12:20 o'clock.

TWO CARS BRUSHED fenders in front of the post office building at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, one of the drivers, John S. Weikel, 293 North Manatwamy street, reported to police.

Weikel said he was driving east on High street when a car driven by Edward J. Kruk, Douglassville, pulled out from the curb. He attempted to cut left, Weikel continued, but Kruk's car brushed his rear fender.

Metal Products Vote On Union Scheduled

A National Labor Relations board election is scheduled for workers in the Pottstown Metal Products company plant on Friday, Sept. 15, it was announced yesterday.

The unorganized workers will have an opportunity to vote whether they want the United Steel Workers of America (CIO), to represent them in collective bargaining.

Fifty-five workers in the plant on Grosstown road, Stowe, went on strike the past Aug. 3 for union recognition, increased wages and better working conditions.

Hourly pay rates at the plant ranged from 95 cents to $1.25 when the strike began.

They returned to work less than two weeks later after an NLRB election had been arranged.

The workers went back to work yesterday after a 10-day vacation. Notices of the election will be posted throughout the plant today.

Local Exchange Student To Address Rotary Club

Marshall Rutter, exchange student from The Hill to Radley college, Abington, Berkshire, England, the past year, will tell of his experiences there at a meeting of the Rotary club tomorrow night at the Elks' home.

Rutter, now enrolled as a freshman at Amherst college, will be accompanied at the meeting by his father, Carroll L. Rutter, Pottstown school district solicitor.

William A. O'Donnell Jr. will be chairman of the meeting. Charles Nagle, president, will be in charge.

RIDGE ROAD

Master Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Gates and sons, Robert and Richard, left recently for their home in Columbus, Ohio, after visiting Mrs. Gates' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Smiley, Kimberton, for about a week. Their brief stay in this section climaxed a month's vacation during which they spent some time in Wisconsin and Canada.

Mrs. Myron Berk and daughter Ellen Kay, Kimberton, are spending the week with her brother, Clifford Lutz and family at Kempton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Witmoyer, Reading, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Smiley, Valley Dell.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher, Pottstown, and Mrs. Ida Knight, Pittsburgh, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Howard, Hare's Hill road.

Fisher, Mrs. Knight and Mrs. Howard are cousins.

A family group enjoyed a picnic recently at Six Penny park. Hopewell, Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Styer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Funk, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne G. Hoffman, Miss Mary Anna Hoffman, William Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Styer, Billy Styer, Arden Conrad, Miss Ruth Funk, Mrs. Frank Taylor, Betty Ann, James and Thomas Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. George I. Sload, Judy Sload, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Funk and Peggy Ann Funk.

Sunnybrook, near Pottstown, was the setting for the Fulmer family reunion recently, when the descendants of the late John and Hannah Fulmer met.

About 60 persons were present to enjoy both the noontime and evening meal. A business meeting was held at 4 o'clock with all officers re-elected except Mrs. Robert Gates. Miss Betty Lou Smiley, Kimberton, succeeded her as secretary.

Other officers are: Robert Fulmer, Pottstown, president; Fred Hunsberger, Spring City, vice president; and Harry Mull, Parkerford, treasurer.

Mrs. Kate Elliott, Spring City, was honored for being the oldest member present. Amos Fulmer, Parkerford, was the oldest man. The youngest child was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pennypacker, Nantmeal. The family of Master Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Gates, Columbus, Ohio, had traveled the greatest distance.

Guests were present from Baltimore, Md.; Spring City, Nantmeal, West Chester, Quakertown, Easton, Columbus, Ohio; Coventryville, Parkerford, Philadelphia, Pottstown and Kimberton.

The Rev. and Mrs. Fred Taylor Gaston, Bethel road, have as their guest the Rev. Gaston's brother, Myron Gaston, Chicago, Ill., who arrived on a surprise visit. Recent guests at the Gaston home were:

The Rev. and Mrs. James Myers and son John, New London; Mr. and Mrs. George Myers and Mrs. Abbie Wilson, Coatesville; the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Schneider, Bird-In-Hand; and Mrs. Stephen Clark, Hawthorne, Calif.

Mrs. Edward Willis, Pottstown road, underwent an operation recently at Memorial hospital, Pottstown.

Just Between the Girls

By FRANCES WROBEL

WHEN we gals get together we really talk things over, up, down and around. If there's a corner of the current topic that is missed during session one you can be sure it gets coverage during the fourth round. Coming out of the ring of conversation, slightly bruised but, nevertheless, still intact, is the story of Coventry Consolidated School's PTA member, Mrs. Margaret Miller. It seems that neither rain, snow, woods, nor a dead car battery can keep the devoted PTA member from a club meeting. On her way to the home of Mrs. Harvey Kulp, Jr., Pottstown RD 1, the lady's car gave out in a remote woodland spot.

Undaunted, Mrs. Miller scooped up an armload of food and jewelry which she was bringing to the meeting, and stumbled thru brambles and bushes with the speed of a hare—destination, the nearest house, a few miles away. Arriving like a gust of wind, at said abode, Mrs. Miller smoothly faded away into a faint—provisions and all. P. S. The PTA girls heard the story over the tid-bits that were in the basket the same night.

A fine wind that blows good is the breeze from Norristown way: Said messenger whispers that Pottstown's Jackie Wert is getting on famously at Montgomery Hospital where she is training to become a nurse. This is her first year of training.

Having her greatest thrill: Mrs. Daniel B. Hartline, of 432 West street who flew to Berkeley, Calif., last Monday saw her two grandchildren for the first time. The children, Joy and Dawn, are really a perfect day for grandmother who is staying with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Leonard. Mrs. Leonard will be remembered as Mary Helen Hartline, who after her marriage went to live out near the "Golden Gate."

Seeing the Town of West Chester: Mrs. Earl O. Lloyd is back on Harmonyville road after having spent a weekend with son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Loughhead Jr., over West Chester way.

A honey for the money: If you want to look "strickly richer" while economizing, here's the tip on the latest garment in vogue. It's a coat-dress affair, a very versatile garment which is buttoned down the front and can be worn as a light Fall coat or a dress. The garment is unlined and hangs straight and untethered, giving a sack effect, when worn as a coat. A belt pulls in the waistline and a warm billowing dress is yours after buttoning all buttons. Fashion houses say the coat-dress comes in wool and velveteen. What won't they think of next?

Sophistication in Pottstown: Seen around a few haunts looking smart with her new hairdo... Sara Jane Capp, wowing them on Evans street.

Getting down into the earth: Members of the Garden club are getting out the old spades and really digging into the ground. Purpose of all this industry is to transplant the flowers and plants they have been raising into small vases or containers. The miniature arrangements will be front in center at the next Garden club meeting.

Seen keeping pace with a merry tune: Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sweeney, (our former burgess) stepping lightly to the tune of a foxtrot and loving it, recently at a wedding reception, Liss' Hall, where a gay time was had by all.

It's all old stuff: Collectors of Hepplewhite furniture and Ming vases are making calendar time until the Norristown Antique Show, which will be held in October, takes place. There'll be plenty of old stuff that the folks will want to look over.

Reception Is Staged In Griffith Home For William Dyers

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Griffith, 520 King street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Dyer of the same address, Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyer were married the past week and left immediately for a honeymoon to Lake Erie and Canada. The bride is the former Miss Dolores Faye Griffith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Griffith, 520 King street. Mr. Dyer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dyer, 12 Chestnut street.

Attending the reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Oliver March, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Kraft, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Venzke, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jones, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zeigler, Mr. and Mrs. George Hertzog, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Jeffers and Mr. and Mrs. William Dampman.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Sigmund Yarnish, Mr. and Mrs. James Slaymaker, Mr. and Mrs. John Shaner, Mr. Edward Chayson, Mr. Philip Worsnup, Mr. Leonard Clemens, Mr. Frank Wallent, Miss Paula Jeffers, Miss Shirley Jeffers, Miss Anne Musser, Miss Grace Mutter, Miss Dawn Shanley and Miss Janice Griffith.

And, Miss Helen Surma, Mrs. Mary Frey, Mrs. Doris Viscardi, Miss Laura Mayo, Miss Mary Surma, Mrs. Katharine Trego and Miss Kitty Trego.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Stapleton, 24 South Monroe street, Boyertown, announce the birth of a daughter yesterday in Memorial hospital.

A daughter was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Wertman, Boyertown RD 2, in Pottstown hospital.

Congratulations are being received by Mr. and Mrs. Harrell E. Elson, 509 Linden street, Stowe, on the birth of a daughter yesterday in Pottstown hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Grove, Pottstown RD 2, became the parents of a daughter yesterday in St. Joseph's hospital, Reading. Mrs. Grove is the former Miss Anna Snyder.

White-Kelly Nuptials Are Performed in Spring City Church

The Spring City Evangelical and Reformed church was the scene of a wedding recently when Miss Lillian E. White, daughter of Mrs. James Degler, of 216 Chestnut street, became the bride of Mr. Joseph J. Kelly, of 512 South Main street, Spring City. The Rev. Garnet O. Adams, pastor, officiated.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. William Umstead, the bride wore a satin gown and a finger-tip veil which fell from a crown of pearl beads. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Her jewelry piece was a necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Verna Miller, of Spring City, was matron of honor. She was attired in an orchid chiffon gown and wore a matching picture hat. The bouquet, she carried, was of yellow chrysanthemums.

THE BEST MAN WAS Mr. Joseph C. Miller and the ushers were Mr. Victor Umstead, brother of the bride, and Mr. Russell Schnovel, cousin of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a black dress with black accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Mrs. Charles M. Taylor, church organist, provided music during the ceremony.

A reception for 40 guests took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Miller, 310 Chestnut street.

When the bridal couple left for a honeymoon in Atlantic City, N. J., the bride was attired in a green gabardine suit.

The couple will reside at 216 Chestnut street.

Carefully Selected Budget Can Insure Atmosphere in Home

Do your rooms look dull?—your furniture shabby?

Do you want new atmosphere in your home? Plan today to make the most of the furnishings you have; recondition them to meet your new home decoration planning.

In these days, there is little need to make excuses for a budget. Often the budget-wise room is most attractive. It displays the taste, imagination and individuality of the owner.

You cannot buy imagination, but there is plenty of room for it in your budget. It adds the welcome "extras" to your planning and redecorating.

It's surprising to see how easily a gay new slipcover or a newly upholstered chair can change the appearance of your furniture; how a new pair of curtains or draperies can "perk up" your room; how re-doing one of the pieces that is most worn or dull in color gives the whole room a bright new accent.

BEFORE A tailor cuts into an expensive fabric, he makes a pattern; before an architect or a builder starts a house, he makes a plan. You, too, must make a plan for each room, coordinate it with your budget (or set up a decorating budget if you don't have one) and stick to both of these.

Remember to allow for "unforeseen" circumstances which, no matter how cautious you are, are bound to arise.

To begin your plan, read as much as you can in books, magazines and special newspaper features on decoration. Start a scrapbook of good ideas for use "someday"; but, don't fill it with useless pretty pictures, or odds and ends that you will never want to use.

Next, shop the stores — windows and model rooms. Look again at the rooms that you especially admire in the homes of your friends. Note, either mentally, or in a page of your scrapbook, the things in these rooms that stand out as "good."

FINALLY, LOOK at what you have. What in the room needs re-doing, remodeling, or merely cleaning and refreshing? What in the room is beyond all this and will merely clutter the room? Be ruthless—if it is beyond hope, despite any sentimental attachments, get rid of it.

Remember that the desire to keep "everything" will hinder you in completing your plan.

Your room outlook can be no better than the treatment you give your windows. The usual room is built in such a way that the first thing you see on entering the door is this feature.

It is almost as bad to overdress your windows as it is to overdress yourself. Make sure that the draperies and window hangings fit in with the room scheme.

Inexpensive materials, used with a lavish hand in fresh, clear color and in good taste will outshine the most expensive fabric simply used. If you can make the draperies yourself, it's money saved for other items in your decoration planning.

If you do them yourself, be sure that you measure and fit carefully for the best results. Bright new draperies can change the mood of the entire room.

YOU CAN mix the best of modern with any traditional furniture you have and would like to use. The simple lines of classic modern furniture can season almost any period room, handled with restraint and imagination.

Sometimes the dividing line between modern and traditional is so gentle that it is hard to realize that the combination has been made.

So—if you find yourself torn between modern and traditional furnishings, now that you've begun to "plan to redecorate," you can have your cake and eat it too.

Often you will find these combinations add a great deal of unexpected charm to your decorative scheme.

You don't need to be a professional decorator. You can borrow many good ideas, which will suggest thrifty ways to transform your rooms into an inviting and interesting home.

If you can sew at all, a few yards of decorative fabrics and a little imagination is all you need, as long as you stick to a plan. Take an inventory of what you have, of what you love and want to use, and most of all, what you must discard.

You'll find that you can fit the pieces that you really want into any setting that you plan.

Advice to the Lovelorn

Guests Disturb Her Husband's Privacy

IT'S rather unusual to find a wife whose problem is that her husband loves her and his home too much. Yet that's the complaint on which one of my correspondents bases her plea for help.

She writes me: "I am 36 years old and my husband is 37. We have been happily married for 15 years and have two children, a girl of nine and one five. There is one thing about my husband, though, that makes me very nervous. This is that he loves his home, the children and myself too much.

"He doesn't like to have company come to the house. He says he wants privacy. He is polite to visitors until about eleven o'clock, then he begins to make nasty remarks. He doesn't care whether it's his family, my family or friends of ours. When I ask him why he acts this way, his only reason is that they should know enough to go home when it gets as late as eleven. I have always told my husband to go to bed when he is tired, regardless of who is here. He could close the bedroom door and nobody would bother him. But he won't do that.

"ALTHOUGH I feel terribly embarrassed about this, I never let anyone know. We do our arguing after the visitors are gone. I always try to cover up his mean remarks by turning them into jokes. "I too, love my home, but I also love my friends. He has no men friends who come to the house, and he never goes visiting himself. He is very moody, and sometimes days go by without so much as a smile from him. When he is in a good mood, he can be lots of fun, but that is very seldom."

This woman goes on to say that her husband's conduct when they have company puts her on edge that she cannot enjoy the visit. "I keep saying to myself, 'I wish they would go!' and by the time they do go I'm a nervous wreck. After they've gone and we go to bed, I lie awake for hours, trying to make up my mind what to do about this."

When a wife is sociable and her husband is not, or vice versa, there is no doubt that the situation presents a very difficult problem. The only real solution is for the two to get together on a compromise of some sort. Unless this husband is so completely unreasonable that he refuses to co-operate, they should be able to find some workable plan that would keep them happy and at peace with each other.

ONE THING the wife must suggest is that they limit the number of nights each week when they have company come to the house. It wouldn't hurt a man to be pleasant to guests on, say, a couple of nights a week, if he knows that on all the other nights he can have his family to himself and can go to bed as early as he likes.

The simplest thing, of course, would be for him to do as she suggests and go to bed when he likes, regardless of who is present. It's not bad manners for a wife to explain that her husband works very hard and needs to get to bed early so he can be fresh for the next day. No guest should be miffed at such an explanation.

If she could bring up in a friendly, non-hysterical way, the possibility of their making a program together such as I have suggested, she might yet be able to work this thing out. It is important, though, that she refrain from creating a scene over it, and if she has been doing this, she had better school herself to be more controlled. Her best chance lies in taking it all with as much easy good nature as she can. Tears and arguments will get her nowhere.

Disney Personalor Admits He's a Cook

VANCOUVER, Sept. 5 (AP)—A man who claimed to be Walt Disney admitted today he was a cook in a Nelson, B. C., logging camp after he failed to draw Mickey Mouse to the satisfaction of Vancouver police.

Described as a dead ringer for the Hollywood cartoonist, the logger registered in hotels here as Disney during the weekend and was winced and dined, on the strength of the name, by the manager of a city club.

Police held the man while determining whether to place charges against him. His name was withheld.

Young Actress' Mother Wins Divorce, Settlement

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Sept. 5 (AP)—Mrs. Gladys O'Brien Sylvio, mother of the pig-tailed actress, 13-year-old Margaret O'Brien, won a divorce today on testimony that her bandleader husband "twisted my arm and threatened to knock my teeth out."

It was not mentioned during the brief court hearing, but friends said a $5700 financial settlement had been reached with her husband, Don Sylvio. Sylvio's real name is Silvio Sprigata, and the divorce proceedings were under that name.

MARTIN URGES CONTROLS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—Senator Edward Martin told Washington county grangers today that controls on prices, wages and profits are needed to stabilize the national economy.

THE ASCOT is insulated and has the floor slab laid on a gravel or cinder fill. The utility room, between kitchen and bathroom, houses the heating plant and laundry equipment. There are two closets and a cabinet in this room.

The kitchen cabinets are arranged in a U-shape, with the sink in the center, under the windows. The dining space is in the end of the kitchen under a wide rear window.

The living room has a large picture window in the front and a fireplace in the center of the room. The coat closet is in the vestibule.

There are three bedrooms with wardrobe type closets. The front bedroom opens into the vestibule and can be used as an office or den. A general closet and linen closet are in the hall.

Exterior walls are frame with wide siding finish and asphalt shingle roof. The front entrance stoop is covered, with lattice work supports.

Dimensions are 46 by 26 feet with a front projection of 4 feet, area 1,248 square feet and subgrade 16,224 cubic feet.

For further information about THE ASCOT, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

U. S. Gov't Officials Hint Budget Surplus For '51 Despite Huge War Expenditures

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—There's a chance the government may have a budget surplus for fiscal 1951, now early in its third month, despite the cost of the Korean fighting and the new mobilization program.

This outlook, suggested as a possibility by officials who cannot be named, is in sharp contrast to deficits of $3,122,000,000 and $1,811,000,000 in the two immediately preceding "peaceful" years.

A treasury report issued today shows the government ran a budget deficit of $787,711,000 in July and August, fiscal 1951's first two months, but that was interpreted as anything but disheartening.

For one thing, it was less than a third as bad as the $2,593,474,000 deficit in the same months of fiscal 1950, which ended June 30 with the $3,122,000,000 red ink entry.

Even more striking, it was less than half the $1,789,000,000 deficit for the same two months of fiscal 1948, which wound up in a record high budget surplus of more than $5,400,000,000.

JULY AND AUGUST always are "poor" months from the government financial standpoint. They are periods of relatively light tax collections.

Officials who spoke on a fiscal 1951 surplus as a "possibility"—they cautioned against considering one "probable"—stressed these circumstances:

1. Tax receipts already are jumping ahead of last year, due to high level business and employment, and should take a further jump after Congress finishes action soon on the $4,500,000,000 a year tax hike bill. Further tax rate hikes early in calendar 1951 are in prospect.

2. Over-all government spending may rise only moderately over last year's $40,166,836,000 total because only a part of the extra appropriations for Korea and rearmament will actually be spent in fiscal 1951, and that spending will be offset in part by cutbacks in non-defense outlays.

THE IMPLICATION was the government might finish fiscal 1951 next June 30 with its budget in balance at a level around $45,000,000,000 or with a modest excess of income over outgo.

Congress itself made some cuts in appropriations requested by President Truman in the $43,297,000,000 spending program for fiscal 1951 he handed Congress last January. Furthermore it directed the budget bureau to pare another $550,000,000 off agency allowances.

Budget Director Frederick J. Lawton meanwhile has been directed by Mr. Truman to cut down projected non-defense spending programs, such as public works, for both the current year and next year.

The bureau already has set expenditure ceilings on civilian government agencies for fiscal 1952, to start next July 1, and ordered them to submit by Sept. 15, for further screening, programs trimmed to those maximum allowances.

French Group to Consider European Produce Pool

PARIS, Sept. 5 (AP)—The French cabinet decided today to investigate the possibilities of forming a European pool of farm products.

Albert Gazier, information minister, said the study would be aimed at "organizing the principal European farm markets within the framework of the policy of building a United Europe."

REDS STOP AT HONG KONG

HONG KONG, Sept. 5 (AP)—Three Russian whaling ships which left Odessa June 17 took on water and coal at Hong Kong today and resumed their voyage to the Russian maritime province port of Vladivostok.

Spanish War Vets To Attend Reunion

Two Spanish-American War veterans, both members of Pottstown's Company M, 4th regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, will travel to Lebanon for the annual reunion of their regiment Saturday and Sunday.

The two men, Melvin B. Krause, 1011 Rambler avenue, and E. Clay Miller, 242 North Charlotte street, will take part in the ceremonies at the VFW hall, 718 Chestnut street, Lebanon. Lebanon's Company H will be host unit for the reunion.

Krause, who is secretary of the organization, will have reports for the 60 members expected to attend. During its service in Puerto Rico from Aug. 7, 1898, until Nov. 16, 1898, when its members were discharged, the regiment numbered 1300 men and officers. It was commanded by the late Gen. John R. Brooks, of Brooks' Crossing, Lower Pottsgrove township.

An estimated 120 members of the regiment still are living, ten of whom were members of Pottstown's Company M. Krause and Miller, however, are the only ones who plan to attend the reunion.

Top Reds to Represent Russia at U. N. Assembly

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 5 (AP)—Russia will be represented at the forthcoming United Nations assembly by her top-ranking diplomats, including Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky, it was disclosed today.

Moscow dispatches said the Soviet foreign ministry had applied for a United States visa for Vishinsky as head of the delegation.

The disclosure removed the last doubt as to whether Russia would boycott the 49-nation assembly which opens in New York Sept. 19.

Lions Hear Address On Anti-Red Battle

By thinking more of what services they can give, rather than of those they receive, the American people can combat Communism, the Rev. Clarence R. Rahn, of Temple, told the members of the Lions club last night at their weekly meeting.

Speaking to 45 Lions at their session in the Eagles Home association building, the Rev. Rahn told his audience that "we will all go up or down together" in the war on the Reds.

The speaker maintained that the American people should think well of their country and its elected representatives, without foregoing their right to criticize men in public office.

Next week, it was announced, the Lions will strive for 100 percent membership attendance in keeping with a nation-wide move by the international organization to honor each of the local club presidents.

Nelson Perce was in charge of last night's program. Group singing was led by Edward J. Sweeney. President Paul R. Hoffman presided.

USED CAR PRICES —

these cars to ease up in the near future. He said the order books of many dealers have a deceptively boom-like appearance, explaining that many people wanting to buy a new car put in "orders" with a half-dozen dealers.

"When one car is sold around here," Bickel said dryly, "quite a few dealers can cross an order off their books."

Bickel said that the new-car market has been less tight in recent months than most people suppose—a point in which he got hearty concurrence from Chester Earle, sales manager of Lincoln-Mercury incorporated, West High street.

Earle said the local supply "never was particularly tight recently, despite a lot of rumors you hear." Earle joined the minority on the question of used-car volume, saying that it's been holding fairly steady for the past six months or so.

He conceded that used-car prices have dropped.

Anthony Coscia, proprietor of Tony and Gene's Auto Sales, West High street, went into some detail about the recent slump in used-car buying.

He said the late-model used cars are moving especially slowly. "The only thing that's moving is the cheaper stuff." And, he pointed out, the drop in volume has been greater than the usual end-of-summer slump.

COSCIA ADMITTED that he was at a loss to explain why used-car volume has been declining while the new-car demand has been holding up generally.

He hazarded the guess that the sudden end of the brief flurry in used-car buying might have been caused by the publicity given to announcements by the President and others that there is no shortage of such goods.

MRS. YOUNG —

might be tied in with the T-shirt tests. But the witnesses said she had not told them.

THE DEFENSE attorneys asked only one question of the witnesses, having Chrusch say that he entered the trailer at the same time as Patrolman Paul I. Galloway, who was present in the courtroom but was not called by Reynolds.

The only points brought out in the testimony that were not brought out at her original hearing, when she was held without bail by Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second ward, were:

Mrs. Young's blouse was torn about the collar (testified to by Laughhead, Chrusch and neighbors); the furniture and radio in the trailer seemed to be "out of place" (testified to by Chrusch) and there was a pan of bloody water with a rag in it near the body (by Mrs. Kusniez).

Mrs. Witkowski explained the pan by saying that she had suggested that Mrs. Young try to stop the bleeding of her husband's wounds.

CHIEF LAUGHEAD added one new detail to the story of the argument between Mr. and Mrs. Young when they were alone in their trailer — the argument which Mrs. Young has said ended with her husband rushing at her with his loaded rifle.

The police chief said Mrs. Young told him that a few minutes before the shooting, she had been feeding the dog, and Young had said something about "feeding the dog when you don't feed me."

Mrs. Young, who wore a sleeveless summer dress, sat quietly beside Mauger during the testimony. She seemed more composed than on previous public appearances, when she had been the victim of hysterical sobbing, but she seemed even paler.

When the testimony ended, the defense attorneys ripped into the Commonwealth's position.

O'Donnell said the testimony

"all fits into a pattern of a very confused girl. It was an accidental shooting. There's nothing to show, nothing to attribute to any type of crime. We do not feel that the Commonwealth has brought forward sufficient evidence to show why this girl is being held."

Mauger joined in by saying: "Murder, after all, is a killing with malice aforethought." Of the evidence, he said, there was "none showing manslaughter, or showing first degree, second degree murder, or any other crime."

He said that until such evidence is brought forward, "I think she should be discharged. As it stands now, they have no evidence."

O'DONNELL SAID that the fact the rifle was eight or nine feet from the body meant little.

"Obviously you wouldn't have the thing lying under your feet (while working over Young)," he said. He also pointed out that four or five persons had been in the trailer before police.

Judge Dannehower interjected that the words, "I shot my husband," "I shot my husband accidentally" or "I shot my husband intentionally."

"I think she's bailable," Judge Dannehower said. "The only question is how much."

Reynolds, in asking for high bail, said low bail in a homicide case would set a dangerous precedent.

He also said it would encourage defense attorneys to ask more often for habeas corpus hearings, where the district attorney's office had to make public much of its evidence, thus forearming the defense.

And, Reynolds said, the very fact that low bail was set would prejudice the jury against the possibility that Mrs. Young had been guilty of a serious crime.

THE ASSISTANT district attorney recalled that in the murder case of Gerald C. Wentzel (now serving a ten-to-20-year prison term in the death of Miriam F. Green, Pottstown divorcee), bail was set at $25,000. He suggested this to the judge as a fair figure for Mrs. Young.

O'Donnell countered that each case should be considered on its own merits. "Let's think of individual liberties and not worry about precedents."

The judge agreed that the merits of the case were the key issue, mentioned that the Constitution required that excessive bail should not be set and then said: "I think $10,000 will be a fair and reasonable bail in this case." He added that it seemed a sizeable enough amount for a woman whose husband lived in a trailer court.

The judge pointed out that first degree murder could have been presumed legally in Wentzel's case but could not be presumed on the basis of yesterday's testimony.

RED ONSLAUGHT —

U. S. Second division, the First Marine brigade and the U. S. 25th division are holding off other Red forces.

The Reds brought Yongchon under mortar fire Tuesday night. Today military police, in halting eastbound traffic at Hayang, explained that Yongchon was in Red hands.

POHANG, SECOND to Pusan in importance as a United Nations port, fell last night to the Reds after a day of hard fighting. The Communists north of Pohang had unleashed a tank-supported assault yesterday against the South Korean Third division.

In mountain areas ringing Taegu on the north, First Cavalry troops gave up trying to oust Reds in a walled town of mud huts on a 3000 foot mountain and pulled back.

Other First Cavalry units yielded Tabu, 12 miles north of Taegu on a road known as "the bowling alley" so-called because the Reds tried to bowl down a straight stretch two weeks ago, only to be bloodily repulsed.

Where the Reds were within seven miles of Taegu was not pinpointed.

Eye-Openers
from the
Richard Hudnut
Salon
The fluttering eyelash and the coy look seem to have returned along with the fashions of the dear, departed Twenties. With the new interest in eyes, eye make-up is becoming a must, but heed a word of warning—don't overdo.
Here at the Richard Hudnut Salon, we teach eye make-up to enhance your eyes and defeat feature faults. Use DuBarry Lash Beauty to glamorize the sweep of your eyelashes. Apply to the tips of both upper and lower lashes to widen small eyes—on upper lashes only, if your eyes are large. Lash Beauty will help define your eyebrows, too, or use soft DuBarry Eyebrow Pencil. Never place your eyebrow pencil in one dark, heavy line. Sketch in with tiny, hairlike strokes.
Use DuBarry Eye Shadow to emphasize the depth of your eyes—and remember, it's depth that gives your eyes real beauty. Start your eye shadow near the lashes on the middle of the upper lid—then draw the eye shadow along the edge of the lid to the outside corner. With your finger blend the eye shadow up toward the eyebrow and out toward the outside corner. Choose DuBarry Eye Shadow in a shade to match your eyes for everyday use, but don't be afraid to use more vivid colors for evening wear.
For basic eye beauty, apply DuBarry Eye Cream around the eye during periods of relaxation. It's a wonderful smoother for the delicate skin about the eye. When you put make-up on, use a tiny bit of Eye Cream on the eyelid for that dewy, fresh look.
You'll be delighted when your mirror shows you the results of DuBarry Eye Beauty Preparations. Prices will delight you, too. Eyebrow Pencil, 50 cents. Lash Beauty, Eye Shadow, and Eye Cream—$1.00 each. All prices plus tax at...

Senator Myers Says Republicans Talk Against Reds, But Do Nothing About It

United States Senator Francis J. Myers opened his State-wide campaign here yesterday for re-election in November with a blast on Republicans who "talk against Communism, but do nothing about it."

And he added "unless we defeat the Communists in Korea it may not be long before bombs will be dropping on Boyertown instead of Korea."

Myers spoke to a small gathering at Rittenhouse Square, West Philadelphia avenue, and was the first of a series of talks he delivered throughout the day, finishing with a huge rally in Penn square, Reading, last night.

Ralph C. Body, Boyertown, Berks county Democratic chairman, introduced the various representatives.

Body first presented Burgess James A. Fritz, who made a few remarks.

State Senator Frank W. Ruth, Bernville, next speaker pointed out that he has served the county for 20 years and the residents know what he has done in that time. Ruth is the Democratic candidate for secretary of Internal affairs.

CONGRESSMAN GEORGE M. Rhoads, candidate for re-election, also spoke briefly.

Body then introduced Senator Myers who declared, "At this hour of the day I don't expect big crowds to greet me, but I want everybody to know what the Democratic administration is doing for them in Washington."

Myers who is completing 12 years in Washington, emphasized that he is staking his candidacy on the Democratic record in opposition to Communism.

While Democrats were pushing the Marshall plan, military assistance for democratic countries, the North Atlantic pact, and aid to Greece, Turkey and Iran, all calculated to block the spread of Communism, Republicans in Congress were opposing those measures, he said.

"I want to tell the housewife and the businessman, the white-collar worker and the laborer that it was the Democratic party which took this nation from the depths of the depression and built it to a country of 64,000,000 employed," he stated.

"I want to tell the GI and the war veteran that it is the Democratic party that is making this nation impregnable from without, that it steered this nation into a program dedicated to pushing back the Communists wherever they strike."

SENATOR MYERS SAID he was delighted to begin his campaign in Boyertown because he had a very

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A MODERATELY successful businessman read one of those psychology-in-twenty-minutes productions, and to show how quickly he had absorbed its contents, tacked a sign up in the office reading, "Do not hesitate! The time to do it is NOW." The first employee who saw the sign demanded a ten-dollar raise, the second emptied the petty-cash box and flew to Miami, and the third punched the businessman in the nose.

A newly-made oil millionaire finally persuaded his blonde secretary to swap a kiss for a diamond necklace and steak dinner, but just as he was collecting his share of the deal, his wife popped in. She took one look at the proceedings and called the obituary editor of the local newspaper. "My husband's dead. Tell your readers," she ordered grimly. "How terrible," sympathized the editor. "When did he pass away?" The wife said, "He starts tomorrow."

THE HUMAN ANATOMY

A seventh grader wrote the following composition on anatomy: "Anatomy is the human body, made up of three parts, the head, the chest and the stummock. The head holds the skull and brains, if there is any. The chest holds the liver and the stummock holds the vowels which are a, e, i, o and u and sometimes w and y."

Tuck Williams' .581 Cops City Loop Batting Crown

Slash-hitter Tuck Williams of Kinsey won the 1950 City-Industrial batting crown with an astronomical mark of .581, final figures showed today.

The Distillers' pitcher-infielder-outfielder sprayed 18 basehits in 31 trips to the plate to cop his crown and beat off a spirited challenge by Norco's Herb Harner by a comfortable 81 points.

Oddly enough, Williams was no power hitter. A puncher at the plate, the frail left-hander hit the ball where it was pitched and could bingle into all fields. His 18 hits included but one triple and one double and accounted for only four runs driven across.

Harner was the league's busiest batter. He had 46 official appearances at the plate and made them good for 23 hits to lead both departments while batting an even .500. The young Norco catcher belted two doubles and a homer and belted over a dozen runs.

Third in final hitting totals was Stowe's Tony Clori, who defaulted in an effort to catch Williams when he missed the Stowe entry's last few games. The Stowe gardener batted .483.

Trailing in order were Flagg's Harvey Sheetz, (.481), Flagg's Ernie McCord (.452), and Kinsey's Nels Weidenbaugh (.417).

IN OTHER DEPARTMENTS, Joe Klapotsky of Stowe took home run honors with four roundtrips, George Wayock of UAW and Bud Bechtel of URW shared triples lead with two each, Del Egolf and Harry Anderson, both of the Amvets, had four doubles apiece, and Slick Smith of UAW drove home the most runs, 14.

Pirate Stock Changes Hands

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5 (AP)—John W. Galbreath and Thomas P. Johnson, co-owners of the Pittsburgh baseball club, today bought out stockholder Charles J. Margiotti.

It was the second large stock purchase made by Galbreath, a Columbus, O., real estate man, and Johnson, Pittsburgh lawyer, in the past three months. On July 19 they bought out Frank E. McKinney's interest in the ball club for an estimated $750,000.

Margiotti's holdings comprised 825 shares in the Pittsburgh Athletic company, holders of the National League franchise. He received an estimated $250 a share or more than $200,000.

Margiotti, Pittsburgh lawyer and attorney general of Pennsylvania, was the last major stockholder outside the Galbreath-Johnson-Bing Crosby combine.

Legion, SS Stars Card "Bauer" Tilt

Pottstown's Legion Juniors, who came within an eyelash of the state championship just last week, will regroup for the last time Saturday afternoon on Franklin field when they take on a band of all-stars from the Pottstown Sunday School league.

The Juniors, who had to scramble for everything they got, will be on a mission of mercy. It will be a benefit contest for Hal Bauer, a Sunday School league performer who sustained a serious injury when his team was playing in the semi-finals of the league playoff on Aug. 22.

Young Bauer, a standout player with Transfiguration AA, suffered a bruise of brain tissues when he was kicked and spiked in a play at home plate when his team was meeting Trinity. He was rushed to Pottstown hospital in an unconscious condition, and then to Jefferson hospital in Philadelphia for a brain operation.

Only last Saturday did Bauer regain consciousness, and it still will be some time until he is up and around although physicians say that he is past the danger point.

SUNDAY SCHOOL league officials and umpires, who selected the all-star team, to be announced tomorrow, are counting upon the strong drawing power of the Legion team to put over one of the most worthy benefits ever staged in Pottstown.

All season long, and especially after they reached inter-district play, the Juniors packed them into Franklin field.

SS loop director Howard Horrocks has promised to field a strong all-star array.

"If our pitching holds out," he said, "we'll give them a good battle."

BAUER, WHO is married and the father of a year-old baby, is a graduate of Pottstown High and for several years has been president of Transfiguration's Athletic association.

He has been instrumental in building the church's athletic program into a well-rounded setup for youngsters and young men alike.

Coincidentally, Bauer is an ex-member of the Legion Juniors, and played baseball with many of the players who will be playing Saturday so that his financial load may be lifted.

Earlier, Swamp and CYA played a special benefit game for the injured player, and currently the boys of Transfiguration have begun a $1-a-week club for the purpose of sustaining Bauers' wife and child.

MANAGER RAY KEPNER of Pottstown's Legion team announced last night that his team will be at or near top strength for the affair. He did not, however, name his probable pitching choice.

Kepler urged all players to be on hand for the contest. He said that pictures of the Legion team will be made after the game.

Game time Saturday at Franklin field is 2 o'clock.

Hearn, Maglie Get Better Giant Pacts

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (AP)—The New York Giants have rewarded pitchers Sal Maglie and Jim Hearn with new, higher bracket contracts for their outstanding pitching in the last six weeks.

Maglie has a 14-3 mark and Hearn, since coming to the Giants from the St. Louis Cardinals, has won eight games and lost one.

Each scored a shutout victory over the Philadelphia Phils in yesterday's doubleheader.

Former Coach-Magician To Talk at Trinity Fete

Professor Charles W. Mayer, retired director of athletics and wrestling coach at Franklin and Marshall college, will be guest speaker tonight at a dinner in Fellowship hall of Trinity Reformed church for "Trinity's Sunday School league baseball team."

The dinner will be tendered by members of the Sunday school board of control. Richard C. Haur, administrative superintendent of the school and manager of the ball team will be toastmaster. Rev. John B. Prantz, pastor, also will speak.

The Trinity team finished second in the loop over the regular season, then lost to champion CYA in a torrid three-game final series.

Tonight's speaker served as

Suburban League Seasonal Champs

4TH PLACE TO CROWN

Amazing Mounts Grab PSL Flag

Spring Mount sprang one of the most staggering upsets of Pottstown Suburban league history last night when it trimmed Graterford, 2-1, at Graterford to cop the loop's Shaughnessy playoff championship, two games to one.

The Mounts, who failed to win as many games as they lost while finishing fourth behind Ringling Hill, Gilbertsville and Graterford in that order, added this most recent conquest to a sweep over the first-place Hillers to annex the title. In beating the Fords, the victors put down the 1949 playoff champions.

Art Landis was the kingpin both at the plate and on the mound for the victorious Mounts last night as he stopped the Fords on four hits, then personally ignited a two-run third inning that netted the SM victory.

Landis doubled to head the third inning, then trotted home as Sam Landis belted a single to left to knot the count. Dayton Land

Vacationing With Mercury Readers

By THE VACATION EDITOR of The Mercury Staff

Vacation time is over for most people. But not all.

For a surprising number, it is yet to come. There are hunters who take off the first days of hunting season; people who prefer two winter weeks in Florida to a summer holiday; others who would rather ski than swim.

And advertisements in slick-paper magazines say you just can't beat a fall vacation in England, Ireland or Scotland.

So if you see your neighbor's house darkened for a couple of days running, don't send flowers and offer to lend the car. They're probably just off on an unconventional holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Morris, and their children, of 807 Queen street, wrote that they were "visiting the mountains for a vacation." They were at Nanticoke, the park of which was shown on the card.

On the back of picture of Port St. Jean, Quebec. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Faust, 878 Queen street, penned that they were "having a swell time touring Canada."

Likewise "touring" but in Florida

Company A Scores 96% Attendance Rating At Training Program; Army Films Shown

Company A, 111th Regimental Combat team, chalked up a near-perfect attendance record at its training program in the King street armory last night.

Only four men, all with legal excuses, failed to appear at the weekly session, giving the outfit a rating of 96 percent. Five officers, one warrant officer and 60 enlisted men answered roll call.

Activities for the evening, under the general supervision of Capt. Charles R. Barr, commanding officer, included two Army films on the employment of the Armed forces, various training classes, and specialist training.

The unit was inspected by Capt. David E. Erhart, 1st battalion intelligence officer. Lt. Harold C. Baumann was in charge of the motion picture portion of the program.

MILE-POSTS IN BETTER LIVING...

thanks to electricity

NEW CONVENIENCES WHEN SHOPPING

—moving stairs, better lighting, air conditioning.

NEW VARIETY WHEN DINING AT HOME

—thanks to home freezing, fresh foods are always in season.

NEW COMFORT WHEN DINING OUT

—dining in bright, cool, comfortable surroundings is most pleasant.

From the day of the carbon lamp to the day of television, electricity has performed wonder after wonder. It is a story without ending, for electricity is always finding new tasks to do, new ways to make life pleasant.

Past performance is P.E.'s promise for the future. Let new inventions come, let new homes and factories be built in any number, let the demand for power grow and grow . . . Philadelphia Electric will always be prepared to meet these requirements.

When a new way is found to do something electrically, P.E. will be ready with power to supply it. This is our pledge.
